April 24, 2020

Dear Colleagues,

We expect the Governor's "stay at home" order to expire April 30.

Martin Methodist College will fall back to the "safe at home" guidelines developed by the Pandemic Crisis Team that were in place before the Governor's order.

There have been some changes to our "safe at home" guidelines to include more protective measures as staff and faculty return to campus.

For the time being, staff and faculty will be encouraged to work from home if at all possible.

Summer School Session 1 will be online and a small number of students will be in residence.

On campus visits for prospective students will begin on May 4 with safe guidelines in place.

Thank you for your patience and cooperation!
