Academic Honor Code Preamble

As Martin Methodist College students, we seek an environment in which members of a diverse student body can live together, interact, and learn from one another in ways that protect both personal freedom and community standards. If a diverse community is to prosper, its members must attempt to come to terms with their differences; this goal is only possible if students seek mutual understanding by means of respectful communication. By holding us accountable for our words and actions, the Honor Code acts as an educational tool, instructing us to resolve conflicts by engaging others in dialogues that yield greater awareness for all parties involved. By enrolling in Martin Methodist College, each person agrees to follow the Honor Code for the duration of his or her time as a student of the college. By encouraging respectful conduct, we hope to create an atmosphere conducive to learning and growing.

The Martin Methodist College Honor Code is a two-part code of conduct. The first part, implemented in 2003, involves academic integrity. This portion of the Honor Code defines cheating, plagiarism, academic misrepresentation, multiple submissions of work, and the consequences for failure to comply with the Honor Code or Honor Council. It also describes the process through which the Honor Code will be administered, and the appeals process. The second part of the Honor Code, implemented in 2007, concerns student life. This portion of the Honor Code includes, housing regulations, alcohol and drug policies, and the overall conduct code for all students, and consequences for failure to comply with the Honor Code.

Correctness of Information: Students have the right to accurate and clear information that will enable them to determine the general requirements for a particular curriculum or program of study.

Academic Integrity

Students are responsible for proper conduct and integrity in all scholastic work. This includes following a professor's instructions as to the completion of tests, quizzes, homework, and laboratory reports, and asking for clarification if the instructions are not clear. Students should not give or receive aid when taking exams, unless the professor specifies that this practice is appropriate. In addition, students should complete work within the time limitations specified by the professor. Described below are violations of these basic academic expectations and their consequences. In addition, students have the responsibility to review and abide by syllabi for all courses.

Cheating: Cheating is the use of any unauthorized source in the completion of assignments or tests. Students must complete all tests and examinations without help from any unauthorized source; they may not use, offer, or solicit unauthorized information, materials, or help without the explicit consent of the professor. Cheating offenses include, but are not limited to, looking at another student's paper, an open textbook, a notebook, online or a "cheat sheet" during a test; talking to another student during a test; the sharing of information between students who have taken a test and students who have not; and using or soliciting unauthorized test copies as study aids. Collusion—working together in an unauthorized or fraudulent way—is also cheating. Students may not collude on homework, papers, tests, or any other type of classwork without the express consent of the instructor(s). The student who knowingly shares information or supplies material to another student has also committed an offense and can be charged under this section. These rules apply to take-home exams as well as any other assignments unless the professor explicitly says otherwise. Students must check with the professor and syllabus to clarify what is acceptable. Cheating also includes the use of an instructor's copy of a textbook. These textbooks are not allowed in any class. The professor also has the right to confiscate any and all unauthorized materials used in the completion of academic work.

Plagiarism: Plagiarism, according to Hodges' Harbrace Handbook, 14th ed., is "the use of another writer's words or ideas without acknowledging the source. Akin to theft, plagiarism has serious consequences and should always be avoided" (788). Plagiarism can be blatant or incidental. Blatant plagiarism includes copying a passage without giving proper credit to the source, downloading all or part of a paper from the internet, summarizing or paraphrasing another's ideas without indicating where they came from, or submitting someone else's work as one's own. Incidental plagiarism includes careless omission of quotation marks around a passage that was copied word for word and otherwise cited correctly, or minor errors in documentation when quoting, summarizing, or paraphrasing another's words or ideas. Both forms of plagiarism are serious. A student must avoid both kinds of plagiarism.

Academic Misrepresentation: Any act of dishonesty committed for academic advantage is misrepresentation. Violations include, but are not limited to, lying about reasons for absences or late work, forging an academic document (e.g., a drop/add form), or submitting work not prepared by the student.

Multiple submissions of work: Students may not, without the prior consent of all instructors involved, submit the same work for credit in two or more courses or for a repetition of the same course, nor may they submit work previously completed at any other institution without the prior written consent of the current instructor.

Failure to cooperate with the Honor Council: Members of the college community who are notified of Honor Code action which involves them and who fail to attend a scheduled meeting or hearing may be subject to disciplinary action at the discretion of the Honor Council. Witnesses are required to testify when called. Students convicted of an Honor Code violation who fail to comply with any penalties set by the Council may be subject to further disciplinary action. Cooperation consists of telling the truth. Failure to do so may produce additional honor code violations.

Electronic Device Policy: Unless specifically allowed by the instructor, no devices that allow communication of any kind may be used during examinations (tests, quizzes, final exams, etc.). Prohibited items include but are not limited to: cell phones, pagers, messaging devices, PDAs, MP3 players, iPods, iPads, electronic dictionaries, computers, and calculators with communication capabilities. Any use during an examination of an electronic device other than those authorized and approved by the course instructor is cheating.

Instructors may place additional restrictions on the use of calculators and other electronic devices during exams. For example, graphing calculators may be allowed, but calculators that can store text and images will be prohibited. Students are advised to check with their instructor prior to any examination if they are not sure whether an electronic device is acceptable.

Guidelines for Consequences for Above Actions

Below are guidelines the Honor Council will use in assigning consequences for the academic violations described above. The Honor Council has the authority to change any sanction to fit the severity of the offense as deemed necessary.

Cheating and/or Blatant Plagiarism

First Offense: zero on the test or assignment.

Second Offense: grade of F assigned in the course, and mandatory counseling—academic, psychological, or other—to be assigned by the Honor Council.

Third Offense: Academic Suspension for one semester, not including summer semester.

Incidental Plagiarism

First Offense: assignment must be rewritten using proper citations; academic counseling is recommended and may be required.

Second Offense: zero on paper or assignment; academic counseling is required.

Third Offense: grade of F assigned in the course; mandatory counseling—academic psychological, or other—to be assigned by the Honor Council.

Fourth Offense: Academic suspension for one semester, not including summer semester.

Failure to Comply with the Honor Code or Honor Council

All offenses of Failure to Comply with the Honor Code or Honor Council will result in further disciplinary actions, to be decided by the Honor Council with due consideration of the infraction presented.

Procedure for Handling Academic Infractions

Upon commission of an academic offense, the professor or administrator who notices or is made aware of a problem will file an official report (“Academic Infraction Form”) with the office of the Dean of Campus Life. Upon receipt of an Academic Infraction Form, the Dean of Campus Life will notify the student that an infraction has been reported. The Dean of Campus Life will notify the Honor Council and the student when a hearing is required. Upon the second infraction for cheating or plagiarism, the Honor Council will read through the student’s file and assign the appropriate penalties as specified above. The following infractions require the accused to appear before the Honor Council for a hearing: academic misrepresentation, multiple submissions of work, and failure to comply with the Honor Council (all previously defined above). The accused will also be required to appear before the Honor Council if a pattern is noticed in the student’s file involving cheating or either type of plagiarism (previously defined). A pattern is two or more offenses of cheating and/or plagiarism, with a third offense resulting in a required suspension of one semester if the Honor Council finds the student guilty, pending appeal if the accused so chooses. At the discretion of the Honor Council, suspension will be either for the semester in which the third offense occurs or for the semester immediately following, excluding summer sessions. The accused will not receive academic credit for the semester s/he is suspended. This includes those who have filed “Intent to Graduate” forms.

Honor Council and Disciplinary Committee meetings are closed meetings [Committee Members, Dean of Campus Life (or representative) Accused, Accuser, Witnesses). There shall be an appropriate recording of the hearing for accurate minutes. All recordings shall be deleted once the minutes are documented and approved. A summary record of the proceedings shall be kept in the office of the Dean of Campus Life and a copy of the record supplied to the accused if requested.

The accused will ultimately be asked to enter a plea of guilty or not guilty prior to the hearing

All students, including the accused, are required to cooperate with investigations and a hearings conducted by the Honor Council. In the event an accused student refuses to participate in, or cooperate with, an Honor Code investigation and/or hearing conducted by the Dean of Campus Life:

- (1) the investigation/hearing may take place without the participation of the accused student.
- (2) All reasonable efforts will be made to inform the accused student of the time and place of the hearing and the findings of the proceedings.
- (3) In addition' the accused student may inform the Council that he /she /they will not attend the hearing and submit a written statement regarding the charges.

Procedure for Appealing Academic Infractions

A student may appeal an academic infraction upon receipt of Notice of Academic Infraction (see above). All appeals must be in writing and submitted to the office of the Dean of Campus Life. The Dean of Campus Life will channel all written appeals to the Appeals Board. If the appeal involves a first offense of cheating or plagiarism, the appellant will be granted a hearing before the Honor Council, pending the Appeals Board's decision (see below for the Appeals Board decision process). The Honor Council reviews all second and third infractions involving cheating and/or plagiarism. Second or third infractions for cheating and/or plagiarism may only be appealed to the Appeals Board, with no further hearing from the Honor Council. All decisions by the Appeals Board are final. If the Appeals Board grants a further hearing of the case, the case will be heard by the Supreme Council. (See below for the decision process protocol of the Supreme Council.) All decisions of the Supreme Council are final.

Honor Council

The Honor Council hears cases involving academic policy violations committed by students and recommends actions to be taken by the Dean of Campus Life.

The Honor Council consists of three faculty members, one staff representative, two Student Government Association members, and either the Resident Director of one of the residence halls or the Provost, depending on the infraction. The Dean of Campus Life and a transcriber, who will be appointed by the Dean of Campus Life, serve on the Honor Council as ex-officio members on a non-voting basis.

The faculty members of the Honor Council must be recommended by the Faculty Senate and must agree to serve on the Honor Council for one academic year. The Dean of Campus Life must recommend the staff members of the Honor Council and they too must agree to serve on the Honor Council for one academic year. The students on the Honor Council must be full-time students with a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher. The students must also agree to remain on the Honor Council for one academic year.

Appeals Board

The Appeals Board serves to provide due process to students who feel the charges against them and/or the actions recommended by the Honor Council are unjust. The function of the Appeals Board is to review written appeals by students. The Appeals Board has no direct contact with the student but reads the student's written appeal and the transcript of the case, and decides whether the appeal should be granted. For an appeal to be granted, four of the six voting members must be in favor. If the Appeals Board grants the appeal, the case is referred to the Supreme Council. If the Appeals Board does not grant the appeal, the decision of the Honor Council remains in force.

The Appeals Board consists of four faculty representatives, two Student Government Association members. This board should be named in the same manner as stated above. The Dean of Campus Life and a recorder serve as ex-officio members on a non-voting basis. The recorder will be appointed by the Dean of Campus Life.

Students seeking a hearing from the Appeals Board must submit their request in writing to the Dean of Campus Life within 72 hours of written notification of the decision of the Honor Council.

Supreme Council

The Supreme Council serves as the third, and final, step in the due process procedure. The Supreme Council hears cases recommended by the Appeals Board. In the Supreme Council, three of the five voting members must be in favor of the appellant for any previous decision of the Honor Council to be overruled. In cases where a majority is not in favor of the appellant, former rulings of the Honor Council are upheld.

The Supreme Council is made up of two faculty members, one staff member and two Student Government Association members. The Dean of Campus Life and a transcriber serve on the Council as ex-officio and non-voting members. Members of the Supreme Council and the transcriber are to be named by the same process as described above.

Hearings of the Supreme Council will take place within 72 hours of the decision of the Appeals Board. The appellant will be notified of their right to meet with the Supreme Council. In addition to reviewing the written record, the Supreme Council may call witnesses as needed in order to adjudicate the case.

Student Life Honor Code Preamble

As Martin Methodist College (MMC) students, we seek an environment in which members of a diverse student body can live together, interact, and learn from one another in ways that protect both personal freedom and community standards. If a diverse community is to prosper, its members must attempt to come to terms with their differences; this goal is only possible if students seek mutual understanding by means of respectful communication. By holding us accountable for our words and actions, the Honor Code acts as an educational tool, instructing us to resolve conflicts by engaging others in dialogues that yield greater awareness for all parties involved. By enrolling as a student at Martin Methodist College, each person agrees to follow the Honor Code for the duration of his or her time as a student of the college. By encouraging respectful conduct we hope to create an atmosphere conducive to learning and growing.

The Martin Methodist College Honor Code is a two-part code of conduct. The first part, implemented in 2003, involves academic integrity. This portion of the Honor Code defines cheating, plagiarism, academic misrepresentation, multiple submissions of work, and the consequences for failure to comply with the Honor Code or Honor Council. It also describes the process through which the Honor Code will be administered, and the appeals process. The second part of the Honor Code, implemented in 2007, concerns student life. This portion of the Honor Code includes, housing regulations, alcohol and drug policies, and the overall conduct code for all students, and consequences for failure to comply with the Honor Code.

Student Social Code: Martin Methodist College students have certain rights and are required to fulfill certain obligations that are outlined below. It is expected that students will understand and exercise their rights while fulfilling their obligations and respecting the rights of others. The college intends to enforce the regulations, and the college intends to respect students' rights.

NOT KNOWING THE RULES DOES NOT EXCUSE
LACK OF ADHERENCE TO COLLEGE RULES AND REGULATIONS.

Student Rights

Nondiscrimination: Martin Methodist College (MMC) is committed to the principles of equal opportunity as defined under Federal and State law and does not discriminate unlawfully on the basis of race, color, creed, disability, national/ethnic origin, age, religion, sex, sexual orientation or veteran status in its admission Policy, programs, or activities, educational policies, scholarship and loan programs, athletic and other College-administered programs, or employment practices and programs.

Confidentiality of Records: Students shall have the right to have their academic and disciplinary records kept confidential, subject to existing Federal or State laws. No official records of students shall be available to unauthorized persons without the expressed written consent of the student involved, except under legal court order.

Freedom of Opinion: Students have the right to take stands on issues and to examine and discuss questions of interest, as long as such inquiry does not interfere with the rights of others.

Freedom of Self-Government: Students are entitled to self-governance through the Student Government Association (SGA). Through the SGA, students may participate in the formulation of policy affecting student affairs. The organization and authority of the SGA is found in the Constitution of the SGA.

Student Representation: Students are represented on the Martin Methodist College Board of Trustees at the invitation of the College President through the attendance of the SGA President.

Student Obligations: Each student is expected to show respect for order, ethics, and the rights of others, and to exhibit in his or her daily living a high sense of personal honor and integrity.

Disciplinary Hearings

At the beginning of each academic year, a Disciplinary Committee shall be organized for the purpose of hearing cases whereby the student denies that a violation has taken place. The membership of this committee shall include faculty, staff, and students. The student membership will consist of two SGA members. The Dean of Campus Life will assign two faculty members and two staff members each year. This committee shall hear cases referred to it and make its recommendations to the Chairman of the Committee.

Complaints against students for alleged violations of the Honor Code shall be presented to the Dean of Campus Life in writing. The Dean of Campus Life will investigate the charges and gather any form of evidence that may aid the members of the court in reaching a decision. The Dean of Campus Life shall determine if the case warrants a hearing (no violation occurred). If it is determined that the case does not warrant a hearing (no violation occurred), the case shall be dismissed. The complainant and the accused shall be informed in writing. A decision not to hear a case may be appealed by the complainant or the accused to the appeals board.

The Dean of Campus Life may handle rule violations without convening the Disciplinary Board. However, for a case to be handled in this manner the student offender must agree that a violation of the student Honor Code has taken place. If the student denies that a violation has taken place, then the Disciplinary Committee will meet with the student and the complaining person who brought the alleged violation to the Dean of Campus Life.

Disciplinary Committee meetings are closed meetings [Committee Members, Dean of Campus Life (or representative) Accused, Accuser, Witnesses). Student do have the right to bring witnesses, but only witnesses who have facts that have a bearing on the case. There shall be an appropriate recording of the hearing for accurate minutes. All recordings shall be deleted once the minutes are documented and approved. A summary record of the proceedings shall be kept in the office of the Dean of Campus Life and a copy of the record supplied to the accused if requested. During a disciplinary hearing, no evidence shall be received of other alleged offenses, whether found or charged unless the student involved elects to make good character and reputation a defense.

The accused will ultimately be asked to enter a plea of guilty or not guilty prior to the hearing. Both parties will have an opportunity to discuss their side of the case to the disciplinary committee. Once both sides of the case are heard and the disciplinary committee has had an opportunity to ask questions, the Accused and the Accuser will have the opportunity to make a closing statement. Once closing statements are made, the Accused and Accuser are asked to leave the room while the disciplinary committee makes its decision. Those found guilty of rule violations will receive sanctions. These sanctions are listed below each infraction.

All students, including the accused, are required to cooperate with investigations and a hearings conducted by the Disciplinary Committee. In the event an accused student refuses to participate in, or cooperate with, an Honor Code investigation and/or hearing conducted by the Dean of Campus Life:

- (1) the investigation/hearing may take place without the participation of the accused student.
- (2) All reasonable efforts will be made to inform the accused student of the time and place of the hearing and the findings of the proceedings.
- (3) In addition' the accused student may inform the Committee that he /she /they will not attend the hearing and submit a written statement regarding the charges.

All sanctions must be completed by the student within 30 days of written notice of being found guilty of a violation. Any student who does not complete the sanctions must appear before the Disciplinary Committee and may face further sanctions as determined by the committee. A hold will be placed on the student's account until all sanctions are completed.

Infractions of the Student Life Honor Code will carry over from year to year and are cumulative for the entirety of the time that an individual is a student at the college (Visitation is the only exception to this rule.).

The Disciplinary Committee has the authority to change any sanction to fit the severity of the offense as deemed necessary.

Disciplinary Appeals Board

The Disciplinary Appeals Board serves to provide due process to students who feel the charges against them and/or the actions recommended by the Disciplinary Committee are unjust. The function of the Disciplinary Appeals Board is to review written appeals by the students involved. The Appeals Board has no direct contact with the student, but reviews the student's written appeal, the transcript of the case, and any other pertinent information. The Board then decides whether the appeal should be granted. For an appeal to be granted, three of the five voting members must be in favor. If the Disciplinary Appeals Board grants the appeal, the case is referred to the Disciplinary Supreme Council. If the appeal is not granted, the decision of the Disciplinary Committee remains in force. All appeals must be made in writing 72 hours after written notification of the initial decision.

The Disciplinary Appeals Board consists of faculty, staff, and students. The student membership will consist of two SGA members. The Dean of Campus Life will assign the faculty and staff members each year.

Disciplinary Supreme Council

The Disciplinary Supreme Council serves as the third and final step in the due process procedure. The Disciplinary Supreme Council hears cases recommended by the Disciplinary Appeals Board. The student will have an opportunity to meet in person with the Supreme Council to present their case. The Dean of Campus Life presents the Disciplinary Committees case. The Disciplinary Supreme Council then will deliberate and provide their decision. In the Supreme Council, three of the five voting members must be in favor of the appellant for any previous decision of the Disciplinary Committee to be overruled. In cases where a majority is not in favor of the appellant, former rulings of the Disciplinary Committee will be upheld.

The Disciplinary Supreme Council consists of faculty, staff and students. The student membership will consist of two SGA members. The Dean of Campus Life will assign the faculty and staff members each year.

Alcoholic Beverages: The consumption and/or possession of alcohol (including empty containers) is prohibited on the Martin Methodist College campus or any of its facilities, or at any event on or off the campus which is official college business. This includes, but is not limited to, athletic events and/or social gatherings sponsored by the college. College regulations prohibit any student or student organization from allowing its members or guests to violate college policy concerning alcoholic beverages. No organization may plan or have an official college activity on campus that includes the use of alcoholic beverages. If alcohol (including but not limited to empty containers) is found in a common area of a residence hall room or apartment, everyone in that room or apartment is subject to disciplinary action.

If illegal drugs are found in a common area of a residence hall room or apartment, everyone in that room or apartment is subject to disciplinary action.

In Addition: If a visitor to a residence hall room or apartment is found to have illegal drugs in their possession, the student occupant sponsoring that visitor will lose the privilege of living on campus. If that visitor is a Martin student the sanction below will apply to that student and the host student.

If the school becomes aware that you have been convicted of possessing or selling illegal drugs while enrolled at MMC you can either be suspended or expelled.

Sanction for Drug Offenses: All drug offenses are to be heard by the Disciplinary Committee. The right to confidentiality will be respected in both informal and formal procedures. If a student is found to make a false accusation of sexual harassment, then that student will be referred for counseling.

In campus disciplinary cases both the accuser and the accused are entitled to the same opportunities to have others present during a disciplinary proceeding and the victim will be informed of any sanctions imposed against the accused.

An individual found to be guilty of sexual harassment, after a thorough investigation, is subject to disciplinary actions for violations of this policy. Sanctions may include suspension or expulsion from the college.
